The Lexicon Phenomena
THE NEW LEXICON PHENOMENA

FOREWORD

The Lexicon Phenomena test was presented at the M.A.E.S. convention in Atlantic City in 1977. It stunned the audience but no one believed what they saw. They said that the spectator was a confederate.

In Columbus, Ohio, a lady fainted while mentalist Bobby Hughes performed his expert presentation of the Lexicon Phenomena.

The system used in the LP test has already been applied to a number of foreign languages. One foreign power confiscated the LP and no doubt studied it as a possible weapon in espionage. Imagine two foreign agents communicating in code by the use of a dictionary and without knowing or coming near each other!

Take heed, Gentlemen, the Lexicon Phenomena is great. Do not undersell it and above all do not expose it.

It is the duty of every mentalist to entertain his audiences with baffling feats of deep mystery and the Lexicon Phenomena is a good start.

Best Wishes,

Many thanks, for their well wishes, advice and assistance in perfecting the Lexicon Phenomena, to: Ralph S. Athey, Larry Becker, Art Emerson, Karl Fulves, Mario Graziosi, Bobby Hughes and John Smetana and all the subscribers to the AME series for their kind comments.

Compliments and congratulations are in order for the buyer of this effect in his excellent choice of material. You have just bought a potent secret. A baffling brain buster. PLEASE KEEP IT A SECRET ****

You have received an ungimmicked dictionary, a book of power words titled "Enrich Your Word Power" and this book of instructions. Only the new buyer will know the secret, because only the owner will have the key to the mystery, which is the prompter list with the code numbers! The dictionary and the book of power words are useless without the 'key.'

THE EFFECT: One, two or three spectators are asked to secretly choose words from a book that contains thousands of words. They may take the book into another room, or into another city to choose their words. They need not write or repeat the words to anyone!

Immediately the mentalist divines one of the words, without anything being said by the spectators. The performer instructs the other two spectators to look up the meaning of the other two words in a dictionary in order to assist the performer is this most difficult test. The mentalist divines the words although nothing has been written or said and the performer has never approached the spectators. The mentalist has cautioned the spectators to keep a good distance away from him! all during the test.

Gentlemen, this is the strongest book test extant. The dictionary is totally ungimmicked and is not a specially printed dictionary. It is an ordinary dictionary that can be bought in stationery stores. As will be seen later, any other dictionary can be used in conjunction with the LP dictionary which means that the host or hostess can furnish their own dictionary to be used in the test.

THE SECRET OF SECRETS: Since nothing has been written or said, the mentalist has no way of telling what words have been secretly chosen BUT amazingly enough, the spectators themselves tell the mentalist what their choice was by unknowingly coding the words to the mentalist by a 'body language' that only the mentalist can interpret!

The performer therefor, must be in a position from where he can see what the spectator is doing as he looks up the meaning of the word in the dictionary. Much depends on the performer's eye sight. 10 feet is a good distance to be away from the spectators but 30 feet or more is also possible.

In order to understand the method we must first get acquainted with the secret prompter list and its code numbers that only the performer knows about and your audience will never see as this list is hidden on your person.

Fig. 1 shows a small section of the prompter list.

!List Numbers

The four-digit code numbers in your prompter list are the important ones. Code number 2343 will tell you that the spectators have secretly chosen the three words on line number 135 in the "Enrich Your Word Power" booklet.

The first person chose the word "divot" the second person chose "rattler" and the third person chose "vainglory."

Only the first two spectators need look up their chosen words as once the performer knows the correct first two words he will also know the third word!

The 'list' numbers that appear in the booklet are of no value to the mentalist and must be ignored in the presentation as the lines of words are repeated under different list numbers.

Each numbered line in the booklet has three or more words to it. Some lines have 4 words. In the presentation, the number of words per line is never mentioned. The spectators are instructed to think of the line and all the words on it only.

THE CODE NUMBERS: The first digit of the code number is all important. In Fig. 1, the first digit is a "2."

The first spectator codes this first digit to the performer (without knowing it, of course) as soon as he opens the dictionary to look up his word. In this case the performer notices that the spectator has opened the dictionary to section "2" (as will be explained shortly) and therefore the performer knows that the three words will appear in section "2" of the prompter list and immediately removes that section of the list from his pocket in the act of taking out a small writing pad to make notes.

A TRIAL RUN: Let's take a case in sample. We will use three spectators and designate them as No.1, 2 and 3. They have secretly chosen a line in the booklet and we do not know at this time what line they have chosen.
Performers informs spectator No. 3 that he already knows the word he chose as it came to him in a flash and that he will shortly tell him so please dismiss it out of his mind.

When spectator No. 1 is told to look up his word in the dictionary he will open up the book to one of the five sections as shown in the diagrams in Fig. 2.

Section 1: The bulk of the pages of the dictionary are to your left with only a few pages to the right (12 or less). The spectator is looking up his word in the first section of the dictionary. The diagrams are as seen by the performer.

Section 2: About 3/4 of the pages are to the left and 1/4 to the right.

Section 3: The pages are equally divided left and right at about the center of the book.

Section 4: 3/4 of the pages are to the right and 1/4 to the left.

Section 5. This is the opposite of Section 1, with the bulk of the pages to the right and just a few pages to the left. Here the first word is in the last section of the dictionary.

There is no way to mistake the various sections of the dictionary. They are very easy to spot as will be seen in actual practice.

All the words in the booklet have been chosen from the five sections of the LP dictionary, and can not be found in any other parts except in these sections as indicated in Fig. 2.
Spectator No. 1 has of course been instructed to think of only the first word in the line and spectator No. 2 to think of the second word, etc.

Let's assume that spectator No. 1 has opened the dictionary to section 4. Before he finds his word to read the definition, the performer already knows what section of the prompter list to take out of his pocket. In this case, the performer takes out section 4. This section has all the code numbers that start with 4 and are in the 4000 series. Performer opens his note pad and secretly jots down the digit "4."

GETTING THE SECOND DIGIT OF THE CODE NUMBER:

Fig. 3 shows a book opened to the center section so please disregard that as it has been drawn to designate the second digit only. When spectator number 1 finds his word, it will be in one of these four sections. Sections 1 and 2 are on the left hand column of the left hand page and section 3 and 4 are on the right hand column of the right hand page.

You will be able to tell where the spectator is reading the definition of his chosen word quite easily, but if there is doubt then the performer can resort to the following two ruses.

1. Mentalist Mario A. Graziosi of Mt. Ephraim, N.J. recommended the use of a six-inch red ruler. This is given to the spectator and is told to please place the ruler under the definition of the word and concentrate on it. About one inch of the ruler will stick out and give the exact cue.

   Book marks can also be used. When the book is closed the cue is quite clear.

2. Mentalist-author Larry Becker tells the spectator to draw an imaginary line under the word with his finger tip.

Let's assume that spectator No. 1 has found his word in section 3 of the page. Performer now writes the digit 3 to the right of the first digit 4 and he now has two digits, "43-". In order to complete the 4-digit code number the performer must get two more digits. These he will get in the same fashion as the first two, when spectator number 2 looks up the definition of his word.

Let's assume that spectator No. 2 opened the dictionary to section 1 and read the definition of his word in section 2 of the page. Performer now has the 4-digit code number of "4312." Performer checks the section of the prompter list in his hands and reads next to 4312:
rein, amnesia, numerator

From there the performer can proceed as desired. He can tell the third spectator his word first, etc. Do not be surprised if someone starts a bonfire after that.

THE RECAP

1. Three spectators are asked to secretly choose one line of words.
2. Spectator #1 is told to look up his word. He opens the dictionary to section 4.

   performer writes down ------ Code No. 4
3. Spectator #1 reads the definition of his word in section 3 of the page

   performer writes down ------ 3
4. Spectator #2 opens the dictionary to section 1

   performer writes down ------ 1
5. Spectator #2 reads the definition of his word in section 2 of the page

   performer writes down ------ 2
6. The 4-digit code number is now complete. Performer refers to his prompter list to get the three chosen words.

AN AL MANN EXCLUSIVE

THE DICTIONARY

CAUTION: Do not use any other dictionary in place of the LP dictionary that came with this effect.

All the words in the "Enrich Your Word Power" booklet were taken out of the above mentioned dictionary. A great deal of work and experimentation was done over a number of years to perfect the effect. Much care was used to make sure as to the accuracy of the words. For example, care was used in selecting words whose definition did not spill over from one page to the other or from one column to the next so that the spectator when reading the definition of his chosen word need not turn the page or go from one column to the next.

If the reader uses any other dictionary that may resemble the LP dictionary he will fail badly occasionally, so why take a chance.

When another dictionary is used as explained later, it must be used in conjunction with the LP dictionary.

Dictionaries that look exactly like the LP dictionary and published by the same company but in a different year will cause failure since the contents of the dictionaries are changed with every new publication. The 1974 issue of the LP dictionary as mentioned above is different from the 1967, 1970 and 1971 issues of the World Publishing Co. which sold out to Collins in 1974, although they look exactly alike.

THE "ENRICH YOUR WORD POWER" BOOKLET

This booklet contains over 3600 words in 1200 lines. Each line contains 3 words or more. A few lines contain four words.

However, only the first 400 lines are original. These are the same 400 lines that were used in the original Lexicon Phenomena effect, except that a third word has been added to each line.

These original 400 lines have been repeated twice more in the booklet to make the 1200 lines but the repetitions have been disguised as follows:

Line No. 1 is repeated as lines Nos. 426 and 837
Line No. 2 " " " " 427 and 838 etc., etc.

Line No. 26 is also line No. 401 and 812
Line No. 27 is also line No. 402 and 813. etc.

All pages appear different to the unsuspecting eye. In order for the spectator to discover any duplication of lines he would have to study the booklet at length. The performer must, of course, retrieve the valuable booklet when the effect is over and not leave it for minute inspection in the hands of the spectators. The effect is so strong, that no suspicion will be directed at either of the two books used or any of the procedure used in the presentation.

THE PROMPTER LIST

The prompter list contains only 400 lines and 400 code numbers. So no matter what line the spectators choose from the booklet, that line will appear in the prompter list but perhaps not with the same 'list' number.

You have received a number of copies of the prompter list in two sizes. Some buyers may have trouble reading the fine print so the prompter list is also sent to you in regular size letters.

World famous mentalist Ray Hafler of California, who is a pen pal of the author, and who was the very first person to buy the LP, has come up with what appears to be the very best way of utilizing the prompter list.

Ray and the author use the following system:
The prompter list is separated into five sections.
Section No.1 includes all the code numbers from 1111 to 1454
Section No. 2 ------ 2111 to 2454
Section No. 3 ------ 3111 to 3454,
Section No. 4 ------ 4111 to 4454
Section No. 5 ------ 5111 to 5454

Ray uses 5 leather card holders with note pads numbered from 1 to 5 and each containing a section of the prompter list respectively. These 5 card holders go into different pockets so that he can immediately reach for the correct section when the first spectator opens up the dictionary to look up the first word.

The author uses 5 inexpensive pocket note books of the spiral-binding kind which go into different pockets as follows:
Notebook No.1 goes into the right trouser's pocket
No. 2 " " left trouser's pocket
No. 3 " " right outside coat pocket
No. 4 " " left outside coat pocket
No. 5 goes into the shirt pocket or breast coat pocket.

As has been said before, the performer will have the correct note pad in hand before the first spectator has located his word!

NOTE: In your prompter list only, "lee" is the third word on line 63."laureate " is the 2nd word on line 170.
MIRACLES .......MIRACLES......MIRACLES

USING ANY OTHER DICTIONARY IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE LP DICTIONARY! !: It will probably never happen that anyone would challenge you to do the LP test with their own dictionary, unless that someone happen to be an envious magician, BUT to deepen the mystery and to cause plenty of after-talk you should suggest to the hostess to furnish her own dictionary for the test. Let's say that this has happened and that you are about to present the test. One or more spectators are asked to choose a line of words from the booklet. Then proceed as follows:

Tell the second person to look up the meaning of the second word in the 'strange dictionary!' Now it so happens that any word found, for example, in the first section of the LP dictionary will also be found in the first section of any other dictionary! but not necessarily in the same section of the page. However all the performer does here is to note in what section of the dictionary the spectator has found the word. Let's say that the spectator has opened the 'strange' dictionary to the third section, the center of the book.

In this case the performer writes down (secretly) the digit "3." This "3" will be used by the performer as the third digit of the 4-digit code number.

Next tell spectator No. 1 to look up his word, the first word, in the LP dictionary. From this spectator you will get the first two digits of the code number. Say that you got from the first spectator with the LP dictionary the digits "41." The performer now has the first three digits of the 4-digit code number AND THAT IS ALL HE NEEDS!!

The performer has the digits "341-." And he has also taken out of his right outside coat pocket the section of the prompter list that is hidden in the pocket notebook and which contains all the code numbers that start with the digit "3!"

Of course the performer knows where the second spectator found his word and the section of the page BUT he can not be sure of the 4th digit so he disregards it.

Looking at his prompter list the performer sees the following four lines which are all together and all start with the digits "341-.">

3411 221. jumbo, Amen-Ra, dormitory
3412 222. khan, amoeba, domesticity
3413 223. kibbutz, Apocrypha, coeval
3414 224. kibitzer, amendment, codex

Gentlemen, the above four lines as used in this example were picked at random and as you can see the 'pumping' needed to discover what line of words is the chosen one is quite easy.

The performer tells the first spectator that his word starts with the letter "k" and chances are he will say "Yes!" That will of course eliminate the first line "J411."

If by chance he had said no, then the performer knows that the chosen line is the first!

Let's assume that he said, "Yes." Next tell the second spectator that his word starts with the letter "a." He will have to say yes to that one. Next tell the third spectator that his word starts with the letter "c." Chances are he will say yes but if he says "no" then you know the chosen line is the second one, etc. and etc.

Amazingly enough, all the pumping and stalling makes the test appear genuine!

HOW TO DO THE TEST WITHOUT THE DICTIONARY OR WHILE THE SPECTATOR LOOKS UP HIS WORD IN ANOTHER ROOM!

Since the third spectator does not really have to look up his word because you already know it! you can do anything with him. He can be told to go into the next room and look up his word and read the definition silently and to tell you when he has finished and then you shout the word to him. This presentation can be and is a brain-buster!

Or he is simply told to just think of his word without looking up the meaning. This is done before the other two words are revealed.

When the third spectator looks up his word in another room be sure to use a "stranger" dictionary.

USING A TINY POCKET DICTIONARY: Let us suppose that someone offers a paperback or pocket dictionary. Let us further assume that the pocket dictionary is a very tiny one with only a small number of words in it. So much the better! And let's also suppose that the word the the second spectator is looking for in the tiny pocket dictionary IS NOT FOUND IN THE DICTIONARY! What then?

SO MUCH THE BETTER! EXCELLENT! CUANTO LE GUSTA! etc.

The spectator does not find his word in the tiny pocket dictionary BUT the performer saw exactly in what section of the book he was looking for his word! That is all the performer needs. That will give him the 3rd digit of the code number!!!

The performer can now make a big deal out of it. He can say, "Well, forget the dictionary. Just think of the word."

USING TWO STRANGER DICTIONARIES! If the host offers two of his dictionaries for the test, give these to spectators No. 2 and 3 and since there are no more dictionaries to go around, performer breaks out his own, the LP dictionary! to give to the first spectator!
At first glance, the new reader will surmise that the Lexicon Phenomena effect is limited to the close-up and drawing room presentation. The author had the same impression at first but to date the LP effect has been presented from the stage many times and in many ways. The author has presented the LP test from the stage in its entirety. However the author's favorite presentation is as follows:

Before the show approach three spectators, preferably some young and lovely ladies, and ask them if they would consent to take part in a unique test of thought transference. To date, no one has refused this interesting opportunity.

They are then told to choose one line of words secretly and to look up the words in the dictionary. They are to keep both books until after the test is completed from the stage. They are cautioned not to tell their words to anyone nor to write them down. They may however, make a small pencil mark next to the line in the booklet for quick reference if needed.

During the presentation, the performer never mentions the use of the dictionary nor the special booklet and he emphasizes the fact that the chosen words have not been written down or told to anyone and that the words only exist in the minds of the participants.

Many in the audience will not believe what they have just witnessed, so the performer can read more minds by saying, "Some of you are thinking that the persons taking part in this unique and difficult test are somehow in consort with me but I will assure you that they are not and if you wish I can repeat the test." etc. Quite often some spectators wish to see a repetition just to satisfy themselves and you can be sure that if the effect is repeated with the persons requesting it they will be the best advertisement for your talents.

Tips on Presentation

The excuse for having the words looked up in the dictionary are as follows: "I can assure you that I haven't the slightest idea what words you are thinking about. I can only discover your secret choice with your help. I beg you to assist me by looking up the meaning of the word in the dictionary so that I can get the gist of it."

Occasionally a person will say, "I already know the meaning of the word."

The performer replies, "I am sure that you do, but I do not. If you look up the meaning I can get some mental cues as to what the word is."

When the person looks up the word and after he has closed the dictionary, you may say, "That was quite clear. You see, that is a lot of help. I could tell the Greek root."
Always be sure that there is plenty of good light where the test is to be presented. The dictionary has some fine print that is hard to read. Always do the test with young people that will no doubt have good eye sight, or with a person wearing glasses. Be careful among groups that can not read. Some young people today do not know how to use a dictionary!

THE PREDICTION: The LP test can be performed like a prediction. Once the performer knows the words he can write them up secretly and place them inside a chest etc. with yesterday's date.

THE MIRROR IMAGE: Occasionally you will have someone challenge you by turning their backs or have you turn your back. This has already happened. In that case you will have to rely on a mirror reflection. The mirror image will come to you reversed. In the mirror it will appear like the person has opened the book to the first section when in reality the book is opened to the last or 5th section. If he is looking at his word in the upper left, it is really the upper right. The owner will have to practice to perfect this technique.

The new owner will have to perform the LP test a good dozen times before he becomes at ease with it and knows exactly how to proceed. The more the test is done the better it will appear to the public. It is best to do the test with a person that is sitting and facing you. A person that is standing usually turn their backs to you.

BEWARE THE PIRATES

Information has been received that a thief in Detroit is duplicating the LP and selling it for $20.00. The xerox copies are deplorable and it is a wonder that anyone buys them.

Only the following magic dealers are authorized to sell the Lexicon Phenomena: Micky Hades Int., Nelson Enterprises, Lee Jacobs, Bobby Hughes, Jeff Busby, O'Dowd Manufacturing and Magic Books by Post of England. If the printing looks blurred like a xerox copy you know it is a phoney.
THE NEW LEXICON PHENOMENA

A HISTORY

"Do not build walls around yourself. Build bridges to your fellowman."

A. U.

The idea for the Lexicon Phenomena grew out of a simple book test done with a deck of cards. The spectator is asked to choose any card from the deck and to add a zero to its numerical value to arrive at a page number. The spectator next opens the book to that page and concentrates on the first word, sentence etc. The performer without knowing the page number chosen can divine the word.

The card could have been a force or the performer could easily tell what card was chosen, however by using only certain cards and eliminating others the performer could easily tell exactly where the book was opened to!

Eventually a list of words was substituted for the deck of cards and a two-digit code used. The spectator was given a choice of one in 20 words to look up in a dictionary or one in 20 pages to turn to. Telling a person which one of 20 words he is thinking of is a miracle in itself, however when a second word was added to each line and the spectator was told to look up two words instead of one, the dam broke and the spectator was deluged with choices. He now could choose any line of two words of 400 lines and a total of 800 words!

This idea was discussed with Richard Himber in the Essex House in NYC in early 1960 and he conceded that it was a great idea indeed. It was then only a thought. The tremendous amount of work involved in carefully choosing the words and making the code was not realized until the work on the idea was started in earnest in May 5th 1971. The whole concept was finally finished in rough copy in 1973.

John Smetana, banker and master magician who commands a high fee for his performances and is a member of the AME think tank, was the first to witness the presentation of the Lexicon Phenomena in rough. His very first words after seeing the effect were, "Don't sell it. It is too damn good."

However, in order to make one LP effect we were forced to make a number and keeping in mind the quotation at the head of this page, the Lex. Phen. was prepared for sale. This decision has never been regreted since the effect has met with great favor and the author has made some excellent friends all over the world.
In August of 1974, The Collins-World Publishing company was contacted for a deal on the dictionaries. The dictionaries were bought in September and received in October of 1974. The original list of words for the LP was based on the World Publishing company's 1970 copy of the dictionary which had now been bought by William Collins and republished. An examination of the new book revealed that the entire list of words had to be revised since the two dictionaries which look alike were very different.

The list of words and instructions were finally sent to the printers. Two separate printers in two states were used in order to protect the secret. By early 1975, the LP was ready and the ad was sent to the Linking Ring in April for publication in June, 1975. At the same time, the finished product was taken to Karl Fulves who was then editor of the Pallbearer's Review. Karl was the first to see the finished product and he immediately applauded the amazing concept and offered to review it.

Al Mann Dictionary Test: Al Mann has perfected a dictionary test that is one of the strongest and most direct I've seen. Spectator freely chooses two words and concentrates on them. No questions asked, and the performer never approaches the spectator, yet he immediately reveals the two chosen words. If you've seen the ad in LR, you can believe it.

Price $30. Order from Al Mann at 11 Woodstock Place, Freehold, N.J. 07728.

(Above flyer was put out by Karl Fulves in May 1975)

On May 11th, 1975, a letter was received by the author from the advertising department of the Linking Ring saying that they could not publish the ad under the circumstances, etc.

At about the same time the above Fulves Flyer came out and west coast mentalist Ray Hafler ordered the LP on the strength of the ad. The following letters of correspondence are self explanatory.

Dear friend:

We had your full page ad scheduled for the JUNE issue.

There is no question about CLIP LINE.

However, the Lexicon Phenomena has raised a few questions.

First, - -it is claimed to be the 'Mental Bombshell for '75', yet it is claimed Richard Himber praised it 15 years ago. Where has it been for 15 years? Himber is dead - -and was a musician primarily. The implication is that it's a "new" effect in spite of the disclaimer in the 15 year old Himber quote. Also, $30 is a lot of potatoes today for a dictionary trick or test. We don't know - -it may be the greatest effect yet, but?

For the above reasons we are asking for a sample for John Braun's Review. If John can give it a good plug, we'll be glad to run the page ad in a future issue.

You wouldn't believe it, but we get all kinds of abuse when a member buys an effect out of the magazine and it is different than from what he believed it was advertised to do. Hence, we are careful when accepting effects like the one described in your ad. If it everything you state - -it is great and we want our members to have it. But, people in the production end of the IBM, such as myself, are neither great magicians or mentalists. We can only go on what we read.

So, please send a sample for John Braun's Review and after his review he will advise us if we should use the ad copy as submitted.

Sorry about the delay... if John says the effect is great you will get a double ad at no additional cost - -the one submitted plus a review in John's monthly column.

Magically yours,

Thomas M. Dowd
Advertising Manager, Linking Ring

Dear Mr. Dowd,

I am enclosing a xerox copy of a circular just put out by Karl Fulves, editor of the Pallbearers Review.

I did the Lexicon Phenomena test to Karl a few weeks ago after I had sent you the AD. He said it was great, and when I finally revealed the secret, he flipped since anyone can do it with a few seconds of study!

Mr. Fulves review is good enough for me. If you considered it sufficient then PLEASE RUN THE AD otherwise return my money and we'll remain friends.

HIMBER

I agree with you that the Himber reference looks incongruous. You say that Himber was primarily a musician. I knew him as the greatest inventor and manufacturer of brilliant magic and mental effects. He sold his effects through the "Gimacs Unlimited" outlet from the Essex House. His ads appeared for many years in the Genii until his death. Himber put out a dictionary trick in the late 50's called "For Professionals Only" and sold for $20. Only a handful of men could work that effect so it was properly named. I visited Himber at the Essex house for a number of years. I discussed the Lexicon Phenomena principle with him. At that time it was only an idea and I had not yet named it. It has been my exclusive property for all these years together with many other subtle secrets including one book test that I would have to sell for over $200.

I am very proud of the Himber reference BUT I WILL DELETE IT FROM THE AD since I agree with you that it is open to question. I named the effect the bombshell of 75 because I am just now releasing it.

I also agree with you in that Ads deceive readers, but THAT IS ONLY BECAUSE READERS GIVE THEIR OWN INTERPRETATION TO THE ADS. If they study the ad carefully and not expect to buy miracles for peanuts they would have nothing to complain about. I have never seen or heard a professional magician or mentalist complain about some effect he bought. ONE MAN'S FOOD IS ANOTHER'S POISON. When professional magician's like Himber, Fulves, Meyer, Smetana just to name a few praise my effects, I will not worry when an amateur does not recognize it.
Enclosed is a picture of Al Flosso, Dunninger and myself. This was the last picture taken of Joe. He was a showman right to the end and he loved to pose for pictures. It was taken on 12/22/74 at his home. Mrs. Dunninger and myself were the only ones at his bedside when he died on 3/9/75 at 12:30.

My stage name is Allemann.

Thank you for your letter and the fact is I am impressed that you think the ad sounds so incredible that you refuse to print it.

I will put out a "Challenge Super Clip Line" next which will be added to the original Clip Line effect. I will send a copy to John Braun when I submit the ad.

No hard feelings on my part if your final decision is not to print the ad for The Lexicon Phenomena.

P.S. Just received an order for the Lexicon Phenomena from Ray Hafler of California. He bought it just on the strength of the Fulves' Ad.

Al Mann's Book Test
I said in the last circular that the ad for this test had already appeared in Linking Ring. It didn't. They turned down the ad on the grounds that the trick was impossible and could not meet the conditions stated. After seeing how the trick was done, and entirely to their credit, they apologized and ran the ad. The only point I questioned Al Mann about was the price. His point—completely correct—is that at $30 the method is cheap for the working mentalist. My argument was that expensive manuscripts encourage one man to buy the trick, then xerox it and pass it around (as is the case, for example, with cardician-type manuscripts) and discriminate against the sincere but less-than-rich novice who might be able to put the trick to good use. You'll have to answer the question for yourself, but in the meantime, no more phone calls please asking how it's done.

Dear Mr. Mann:

Appreciate your letter dated May 19th...
The full page ad will be in the July, 1975 issue to be mailed on or about June 26, 1975.

I thot your letter was a bit on the defensive side, and I did not mean to place you in that position. We never 'refused' to publish the ad...it is only that to us you are a new advertiser and we want to make certain.
That works both ways -- protects you and the magazine.
You have no idea how many 'miracles' people want to offer to the magic profession...a few slip by and do get into the magazine...result is that we constantly
'run scared'. I suppose in retrospect what really raised the big question was the 'bombshell of 75' coupled with the Himber testimonial.

We recall Himber quite well...he advertised in this magazine under the 'Gimacs Unlimited' name for many years.
And he did produce some outstanding material...and a very few 'duds'. He was one of the last of the great 'characters' of the magic world...and a pretty fair musician!

So, we are in agreement on most points.

Hope the ad will draw some interest from our members.

Magically yours,

For The Linking Ring.

PS: Now that it is all over, you may like to know that you fooled some of the 'insiders' as well as this writer, as I submitted the copy to several who claim to 'know' magic, and they wondered...so, I agree --- The Lexicon Phenom is GREAT.
THE LEXICON PHENOMENA
An AL MANN Exclusive

THIS IS THE MENTAL BOMBSHELL FOR '75

Effect: Spectators look up the meaning of their freely chosen words in a dictionary. The performer who is several feet away devines the words!

The principle is new! It eclipses all other Dictionary or book tests! The effect may be repeated hundreds of times, each time with different words! The spectators have a free and secret choice of hundreds of words!

NOTHING IS USED BUT THE DICTIONARY AND THE MIND.

The performer DOES NOT KNOW WHAT WORD OR WHAT PAGE THE SPECTATORS HAVE CHOSEN UNTIL THE END when the words are revealed.

The spectators need not write anything down. The spectators say nothing. They do not point to the word or underline or circle it. All they do is read it and think! The performer does not touch the dictionary or come near the spectators until the effect is over!

This is not the first-word-on-the-page effect. Nor the margin word. Nor the count-to-the-word gimmick. Nor the add-the-numbers-on-the-page ruse. The spectators do not use mathematics to arrive at their word.

Here is the Bombshell! The entire contents of the dictionary from the first page to the last is entirely ungimmicked. Once you know the secret you can use any dictionary as it comes from the printers, or the thesaurus.

This is a one-man effect that uses no confederates. You will be the only one who knows the secret.

NOT SOLD THROUGH DEALERS. BY DIRECT MAIL ONLY.

Here is what one man said about the Lexicon Phenomena.

EFFECT: Spectators look up the meaning of their freely chosen words in a dictionary. The performer who is several feet away divines the words!

Listen to the words of the Masters:

"Lexicon Phenomena is the greatest book test I’ve ever seen. Worth more than $30." The Astonishing Neaf, Pa.

"Diabolically clever. Congrats on a great mental effect." Bob Lynn, publisher of Invocation, Waldwick, N. J.

"— a dictionary test that is one of the strongest and most direct I’ve ever seen — no more phone calls please asking how it’s done." Karl Fulves, editor of Pallbearers Review.

"It is Great."

"I cannot remember when I have been so intrigued with a method — which has overtones of the miraculous." W. Gerald Fulton, Ontario, Canada.

"L. P. beats all the mental feats. It is really a bombshell." Tony Fernandes, Hollywood, Ca.

"I must congratulate you on your L. P. It’s terrific. Should be sold for $100 and not $30." Richard Lyn, Ontario, Canada.

"I can’t believe I have such a powerful weapon in my arsenal of mental effects." M. Graziosi, Mt. Etna, N. J.

"Indeed it is a very good effect. I will apply the principle to a Flemish dictionary." Roger Misslem, Belgium

"Your material is fantastic! Out of this world! I have experienced much pleasure, thrills and mystery from the Lex. Phen." Ralph La Barre, Syracuse, N. Y.

"Thank you very much indeed for the L. P. It’s very, very Good! I am so glad for it and right now I am working with a Swedish version." Ulf Morling, Sweden.

"It is great and you are to be commended for putting the L. P. on the market." Micky Mades, Alberta, Canada.

"The Lexicon Phenomena is just fantastic. Leaves them gasping." L. Caltagirone, Jr., Villa Park, Ill.

The Lexicon Phenomena is a one person presentation. (see the ad in the July 1975 issue of the Linking Ring). The spectators need not write anything or say anything. All they do is read and think. By direct mail only ......................... $30.00 p.p.

THE NEW LEXICON PHENOMENA

APPENDIX

The Lexicon Phenomena method has already been adopted to several languages.

Master magician and hypnotist P. Christophersen from Buenos Aires, Argentina is using a Spanish version of the LP and has graciously sent a copy to the AME offices complete with prompter list.

Please note that in order to use a different language dictionary with the LP method, the operator has to collect an entirely new different list of words totally different from the English list of words. So do not attempt to use a foreign language dictionary in conjunction with the LP dictionary because it will not work.

HOWEVER the following super test is possible. Assume that you have two different language dictionaries complete with their own list of words and prompter lists. Have two persons decide on a number from 1 to 400 or 1200 whatever and instruct one to look up the first word in his dictionary and the other to look up the second word of the chosen line in his dictionary. The performer can then easily divine both words assuming that he has secreted copies of both prompter lists that he can consult. Both spectators are of course looking at their own "Enrich Your Word Power" lists corresponding to the language of the dictionaries in use. The mystery is deepen when it is noted that the chosen lines contain totally different words. The performer can instantly divine other words of the same line!

Roger Missiaen from Belgium is working with a Flemish version of the LP and Ulf Morling from Sweden is using a Swedish version.

If someone prepares the test for use with the International language "Esperanto" please send us a copy so we can take on all challengers.

Best Wishes,
